North Carolina law requires the school year to begin for students no earlier than the Monday closest to August 26; feature at least 185 student days or 1,025 hours of instruction; and, end for students no later than the Friday closest to June 11. Excessive days missed for inclement weather may be made up during spring break. Employees and parents should always be cautious about scheduling activities on teacher workdays and annual leave days, including spring break, since these days may be used as make-up days.
